

MRI Devices

Instruments for Interventional Magnetic Resonance Imaging

Thanks to special design capabilities and the development of a unique material, SOMATEX® is now setting the standard within the interventional MRI sector for instrumentation. Minimal artifact, optimum visibility and superior strength make the SOMATEX® MRI devices safe and reliable while maintaining remarkable quality and integrity.

MRI Biopsy Handy

Lightweight

MRI Biopsy Handy is a semi-automatic device for obtaining valuable histologic tissue from a variety of soft tissue organs in MRI environment.

MRI Coaxial Puncture Needle

One for all

The MRI Coaxial Puncture Needle is used for initial percutaneous puncturing using magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) techniques to facilitate localization of the target area. Once the needle has been positioned it can be used as a channel for compatible guide wires or biopsy needles and for the injection of medical drugs.

Large 20 mm sample notch

601 420	15 G	9.3 cm	10

All products can be purchased as single units or boxes of 10.

Tumark® MRI

High visibility

The Tumark® MRI is adapted in shape and size for the application within the MRI gantry. The placement of the dip marker can easily be performed inside the MRI.

Tumark® MRI	601 570	18 G x 12 cm	U

All products can be purchased as single units or boxes of 10.

MRI Tuloc®

Breast localization wire

The MRI Tuloc® Localization System serves for marking of soft breast tissue which ensures high visibility using MRI techniques and therefore easy lesion localization. After reaching a target point with the puncture needle, the wire can be placed into a tumor area.

MRI Tuloc®
Order No.	Gauge	Length	Box Qty.
601 649	20 G	9 cm	10
601 651	20 G	12 cm	10

All products can be purchased as single units or boxes of 10.
